THE 49ER STORY-1946-1963

From a modest beginning in 1946, the San Francisco 49ers have grown into one of the most flourishing franchises in professional sports.

A major league football franchise in the City by the Golden Gate had long been the cherished dream of Anthony J. (Tony) Morabito, a native son and 1931 graduate of the University of Santa Clara. Failing to win recognition from the National League, Tony turned to the All-America Conference, which began operations in 1946 with the late Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, as the guiding genius.

Although the AAC went under after four years of intense competition with the NFL, it proved Morabito's point that San Francisco was a major league city. Sports fans of the entire Bay Area took the 49ers to their hearts and attendance grew by the proverbial leaps and bounds.

The club's success was predicated on Tony's oft-repeated slogan of "Go first class or not at all," and his early organization was built around such honored names as Lawrence T. (Buck) Shaw, head coach, and Frankie Albert, Norm Standlee, Alyn Beals, Johnny Strzykalski and Len Eshmont—all of whom were already top drawing cards in collegiate and pro football.

The 49ers were the perennial runners-up to the mighty Cleveland Browns throughout the history of the ACC and, masterminded by Shaw on the bench and Albert on the field, became noted nationally for daring, colorful football. The AAC ended its short but exciting life when the Browns defeated the 49ers, 21-7, in the championship game of 1949. San Francisco, Cleveland and Baltimore became members of the NFL.

After 13 years of slam-bang battling in the NFL, the 49ers have yet to win even a divisional championship. They've come close, tying Detroit for seasonal honors in 1957 but dropping the playoff. But in every season except five—1950-55-56-58-62—the San Franciscans have been in the thick of the title fight.

During the past four campaigns, Coach Howard W. "Red" Hickey's teams have been noted for unorthodox maneuvers, especially the "Shotgun," a formation that made a deep and lasting impression on football.

Here are the highlights, beginning with the first year in the NFL:

1950—The 49ers fell flat on their faces in their NFL debut, winning only three games. A rival coach described them as "not big enough or tough enough."

1951—In an amazing reversal of form sparked by a great rookie group, the 49ers were in the race to the final day and finished only a half game off the top. Led by Hardy Brown and his famed "shoulder tackle," the club had one of the toughest defensive units in the league. Y. A. Tittle and Billy Wilson began their great careers.

1952—After a blazing start, the 49ers slumped in midseason. It can't be written off as unsuccessful for Hugh (The King) McElhenny came off the University of Washington campus to become "Player of the Year" and the most feared runner in football.

1953—The 49ers had their best NFL showing, 9-3, normally good enough for a championship. But Detroit was 10-2. Two of the San Francisco losses came with Tittle benched because a severe facial injury. The three defeats were by a total of nine points. Joe (Jet) Perry became one of the few players in pro history to gain more than 1,000 yards in a single season. Gordy Soltau was the league's top scorer for the second straight year.

1954—Early momentum was broken by injuries to key players such as Tittle, McElhenny, and Rex Berry. Perry gained more than 1,000 yards again, the first man ever to achieve this distinction.

1955—With McElhenny hobbled by a foot injury, the 49ers had their second worst season in history under Norman P. Strader who succeeded Shaw as head coach.

1956—In Albert's first year at the helm, the 49ers were bogged in last place at midseason with a 1-6 record. They won four and tied one of their last five games for a brilliant stretch drive.

1957—This undoubtedly was the most emotional and dramatic season in 49er history. Every game was a "Cliffhanger" and the "Alley-Oop" pass from Tittle to rookie R. C. Owens became a household byword. Emotions reached a peak when the beloved Tony Morabito collapsed and died of a heart attack at the Chicago Bears game on Oct. 27. Trailing, 17-7, the 49ers fought back for their greatest victory of all time, 21-17. The magnificent Wilson caught a pass from Tittle for the winning touchdown in the fourth quarter. Tied with Detroit at 8-4 when the season ended, the 49ers lost the playoff game, 31-27, although they held a 27-7 lead in the third quarter.

1958—An up-and-down season which finished on a high note when Green Bay and Baltimore were defeated in the last two games. The 6-6 record, however, was blackened by the 33-3 and 56-7 lacings at the hands of Los Angeles and Albert resigned at the end of the year.

1959—With Hickey in charge, the 49ers were in contention all the way and John Brodie came into his own at quarterback when he led the team to a 21-20 upset of Cleveland. J. D. Smith, converted from a defensive back, became the second 49er to accumulate more than 1,000 yards rushing.

1960—Hickey saved a seemingly hopeless season when he installed his Shotgun attack and the club captured four of the last five games to finish in a tie for second place. Third-string quarterback Bobby Waters threw the passes that upset Baltimore, 30-22, in the final two minutes.

1961—The success of Hickey's Shotgun amazed the football world, especially the 49-0 victory over Detroit. Quarterback Bill Kilmer, a passing-running rookie from U.C.L.A., was made to order for the new offense. When the Shotgun was stopped, Brodie took over again in the T and had the finest season in 49er q.b. annals. Indicating the evenness of NFL competition, the 49ers were playing for a second-place tie, plus a trip to the Runner-up Bowl at Miami, or a fifth-place position on the last day of the season. The Colts again won by three points, but 1961 must remain as one of the most exciting and interesting years in 49er history.

1962—For the first time since 1956, the 49ers finished the frustrating season with more defeats than victories. In so doing, the honored adage of "it's easier to win at home than on the road," proved false—the 49ers won only one of seven at home, but captured five of seven road contests.

FORTY NINER COACHES

HOWARD W. (RED) HICKEY

Head Coach

There is no set, soft pattern concerning football when Howard Wayne (Red) Hickey begins plotting the seasonal fortunes of his San Francisco 49ers.

The rugged redhead, who served his apprenticeship in the National Football League as a player and assistant coach, is a nonconformist in the deepest sense of the term. Hickey believes that in this day of intensive scouting, no team can rely on the same offensive and defensive patterns from Sunday to Sunday. That's why he came up with the fabulous Shotgun attack which forced other NFL clubs to go into new offensive maneuvers, as well as devising new defenses against the plays that departed from the traditional T formation.

Hickey began his football career at Clarksville High in Clarksville, Ark., and continued his gridiron activities at the University of Arkansas although his primary interest at the time was in a baseball career. After playing in the East-West Shrine classic at San Francisco in December, 1940, he was drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Traded to the Cleveland Rams before the 1941 season began, Red played only one campaign before joining the Navy for four years as a gunnery officer. Returning to the Rams in 1945, he helped them win their first NFL championship, then moved with the club to Los Angeles in 1946. Typically, his last season as a player—1948—was one of his best as he caught 30 passes to rank with the league's top receivers.

After six seasons as an assistant coach of the Rams, he came to the 49ers as an aide to the late Norman Strader. Subsequently he served under Frank Albert and became head coach in 1959. His four year over-all record is 27 wins, 24 defeats and one tie.

Red and his wife, Celia, live in San Mateo with their three sons.

JACK CHRISTIANSEN

Assistant Coach

Jack Christiansen played in the National Football League with the Detroit Lions for eight seasons as a defensive halfback. For six of those seasons, Chris was named on All-Pro teams. This recognition would be sufficient to place him among the legendary giants of professional football.

But the additional testimony is noteworthy. Norm Van Brocklin, generally acclaimed as football's top quarterback and passer during the 1950-60 era, has named Chris as the best defensive back. His career figures include 46 interceptions and a 22.43 average in returning 59 kickoffs.

As a player, he was the key man in a great Detroit defensive backfield known as "Chris' Crew." Joining the 49ers as defensive backfield coach in 1959, he can now point with pride to one of the best secondaries in the league.

Jack won honors as a sprinter at Colorado State before joining the Lions in 1951. He and his wife, Doris, live in Palo Alto with their four daughters—Terri 10, Jacki 8, and twins, Jani and Joani, 7.

BILL JOHNSON

Assistant Coach

San Francisco fans who followed the nine-year playing career of Bill (Tiger) Johnson, always rated him among the top centers in the game. Their confidence was justified when he was named on the All-Time Pro Bowl team by the Helms Athletic Foundation.

Bill was captain of the Tyler, Texas, Junior College team that won the national title, plus the Little Rose Bowl classic in 1947. These honors followed almost three years in the Pacific with the Navy.

Signed by the 49ers primarily as a linebacker in 1948, he played very little as a rookie because of a broken wrist. But he took over the following season at offensive center and provided much of the blocking that made the 49ers noted as pro football's strongest running club in the early 1950's.

Bill and his wife, Dot, reside in Palo Alto, Calif., with their three children—Bill, Jr., 14, Sherilyn, 13, and Tommy, 6.

JACK MYERS

Assistant Coach

Starting his first season on the 49er staff is Jack "Moose" Myers, who is returning to the coaching ranks after a two year absence.

A 1948 graduate of UCLA, where he gained recognition as a hard-charging fullback and top defensive player, Myers played three seasons with the Philadelphia Eagles. In 1951, he was the backfield coach at University of the Pacific in Stockton, but went back to professional football as a fullback and linebacker with the Los Angeles Rams in 1952.

The following year he was named head coach at U.O.P. and produced top flight teams and individuals for the Tigers until he resigned in 1960. Among his foremost pupils is Dick Bass, the leading ground gainer for the Rams last fall. Jack and his wife, Donna Lee, reside in Stockton with their three children—Clyde, 12, Jack, 10, and Marilee, 9.

DICK VORIS

Assistant Coach

Also beginning his first campaign with the 49ers is Dick Voris, who joined Hickey's staff this spring after two years as Director of Player Personnel and Assistant Coach with the Green Bay Packers.

Voris, a graduate of San Jose State, was an outstanding center and linebacker at Santa Cruz High, Hartnell Junior College and San Jose.

His coaching career started on the high school level. He returned to Hartnell as head coach for two seasons (1952 and '53), his teams going undefeated in 21 games. He was line coach of the Los Angeles Rams in 1954 and in 1955 joined Earl Blaik's staff at West Point as line coach and chief assistant. He was a third year member of the Army staff when he resigned to become head coach at Virginia. He left Virginia in 1961 to join the Packers.

Dick and his wife, Idelle, live in Mountain View with their three children—Richard, Jr., 15, Susan, 13, and Ronald, 12.

LYNN O. WALDORF

Director of Personnel

A former president of the American Football Coaches Association and one of the most respected men in sports, Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf joined the 49er organization in 1957. Since then, he has built up a talent-scouting force second to none. His efforts have been responsible for 30 new faces on the San Francisco roster in the past three years and the 1963 crop of newcomers is rated among the finest in the club's history.

A tackle at Syracuse University in the early 1920's, he coached at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma State, Kansas State and Northwestern before taking over what he termed the "Sleeping Giant" at the University of California in 1947. Under his tutelage, the Golden Bears won three consecutive Pacific Coast Conference titles—1948-49-50—and represented the West in the annual Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena. His 10-year record at California was 66 wins, 32 losses and four ties.

One of the nation's top after-dinner speakers, Pappy is especially noted for his limitless supply of limericks.

He and his wife, Louise, live in Berkeley. They have two daughters and five grandchildren.

LINCOLN KIMURA

Trainer

Starting his first year as head trainer for the 49ers is Lincoln "Linc" Kimura, who served as the assistant trainer for Henry Schmidt for nine years and succeeds Henry who has retired. Kimura started as a student assistant trainer at San Jose State in 1946 while an undergraduate. He earned his AB degree at San Jose in 1949 and became that school's first full time trainer, a job he held until his full time 49er appointment. Linc, who also holds a masters degree in education from Stanford, is one of the most highly regarded trainers in the nation. He is a charter member and a former president of the Pacific Coast Trainers Association. He resides in San Jose.

NO KILMER IN '63

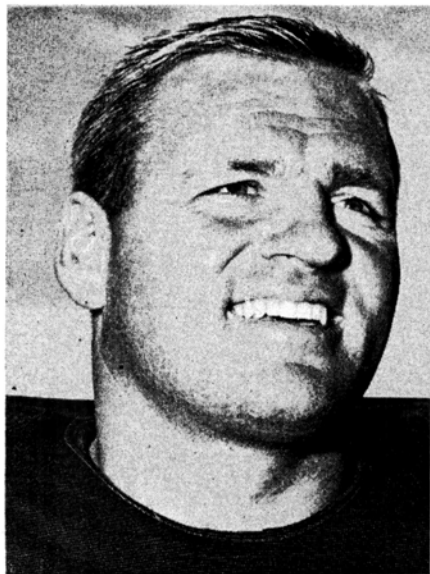

Last December, Bill Kilmer, the 49ers' second leading rusher in 1962 with 478 yards on 93 attempts for a 5.14 average, suffered a severely broken leg in an automobile accident near San Carlos, a community 20 miles south of San Francisco. Complications developed and doctors advised the 49ers Kilmer would not be available for the 1963 season.
